

THE NOBEL
PRIZE

THE FUTURE WE WANT

Nobel Prize Dialogue India 2025

Nobel Prize Dialogue - The Future We Want

3 November 2025, 10:30-13:00 IST, Indian Institute of Science, Bengaluru, India

OPENING REMARKS

Hanna Stjärne, Executive Director of the Nobel Foundation

Siddharth Sharma, Chief Executive Officer of the Tata Trusts

INSTITUTIONS AND CITIES: ENGINES OF HUMAN PROGRESS

What kind of institutions will allow people everywhere to flourish and prosper this century? In the opening session, James Robinson's insights into the institutions that shape prosperity will meet Tolullah Oni's vision for healthier, more resilient urban environments. Together, they highlight how inclusive governance and sustainable cities are essential foundations for building the future we want.

Talk: James Robinson

Talk: Tolullah Oni

Panel discussion including Indian economist Montek Singh Ahluwalia

Moderator: Owen Gaffney

NEXT BIG THING – THE SCIENCE THAT WILL SHAPE OUR FUTURE

How can breakthroughs in science and technology transform health and sustainability for generations to come? Through David MacMillan's pioneering chemistry and Gagandeep Kang's leadership in global health this session will explore how innovation and collaboration can accelerate solutions for humanity's shared future.

Talk: David MacMillan

Talk: Gagandeep Kang

Panel discussion including India/US biotechnology entrepreneur and scientist Kush Parmar

Moderator: Jayaram Chengalur

PARTING WORDS

Laureates James Robinson and David MacMillan share their final thoughts.

Cultural performance by acclaimed artists Dr. L. Subramaniam and Kavita Krishnamurthy.